

Realtor/Mortgage Testimonials

Leslie Baisley - Coldwell Banker Barbara Sue Seal Properties

Hello, Paul. In less than 24 hours from the newsletter mailing, 11 folks have taken time out of their busy day to write to let me know they enjoyed reading the newsletter, and are looking forward to next month's mailing. I wanted to pass this good news on to you. Thank you so much for your good work!

Phyllis Ghazi - RE/MAX Signature Properties

Just wanted to let you know that I got an OUTSTANDING response to the 1st issue of my newsletters! I've been mailing out a high-end magazine to my previous clients for 3 yrs and have heard practically no feedback from these mailings. Yesterday, 5 of my clients contacted me and one of them posted the newsletter on her Face book page telling her "friends" that she thought my featured listing was beautiful. Another past client called me just to say hello.

I'm so glad I signed up for this. At first I thought it was going to be a waste of money but the instant results are truly amazing.

"I've been using Paul/GOemail for several years for my monthly newsletter. He does a great job! I get a stats report a week later where I can see who opens my newsletter, views my Featured Listings page, additional links, etc. and that helps a lot. I can also use his html link for my website. I especially like his Dates of Interest and his articles that save me time, even though I enjoy writing some of the articles on my own. And it's very cost effective (I've worked the numbers!) and it's set up for easy payment thru PayPal. I'd highly recommend Paul to any realtor new or experienced!"

"I was surprised to be rewarded so quickly after my first GOemail Newsletter, with such direct, positive results! Along with many encouraging replies from people in my database, I also received a surprise request from a new client, for a Market Analysis. At our listing appointment, she said she contacted me instead of someone else because of the client testimonial I had included on the Newsletter. The good communication they referenced was a high priority for her as well. All this happened because of my first GOemail Newsletter! Thank you for this great, marketing tool!"

Julie McLaughlin - Real Estate Broker, Keller Williams Realty

"Emailing has become the least expensive and most far reaching method for maintaining business to business & business to client relationships. It makes sense to align yourself with a company that does an outstanding job and one that has been ahead of the game for years. GOemail has been creating and sending out my monthly real estate newsletter since 2006. I am able to customize the portions I want as well as leave the "heavy-lifting" to Paul Kalkman, owner of GOemail. They notify me a few days before the newsletter is to be sent and I prepare a story for my clients creating a more personal feel. Sending this out every month is far cheaper than sending countless postcards or other points of contact. The best part is that I can honestly say I am able to justify the cost easier than just about any other marketing instrument, including my website. Sending out the GOemail newsletters each month has brought me customers who might normally have gone elsewhere. It's a great way to stay in touch with a minimum of effort and cost. You can't go wrong."

"Connecting with your sphere on a regular basis is one of the most important things you can do as a Realtor. Paul makes this possible and practically painless on a regular monthly schedule. His ability to produce a quality newsletter always keeps my clients in the know about the market as well as puts my name in front of them in a non-threatening valued-added approach. You have the ability to customize your newsletter to keep your client's interest high and continually engage them. Of all the many avenues available to real estate agents for advertising, Paul's monthly GOemail newsletter is one of the most important and cost effective methods I use. I am happy to endorse Paul Kalkman of GOemail!" January 2010

Ed Geist – Real Estate Broker, Hasson Realty

"I received a $350,000 listing off my very first eNewsletter and consequently closed the deal. Also, a contact I had not heard from for over two years called me to say he appreciates receiving my eNewsletter, and now wants me to help him invest half a million dollars in real estate. Yes! I am happy with GOemail. My eNewsletters keep me in touch with my customers and prospects throughout the year."

Joshua Svaren - Realtor, Taylor Group Realty

"As soon as my eNewsletter was sent I received numerous phone calls and emails from people I forgot were even in my database. The feedback has all been positive and appreciative. GOemail is a no-brainer marketing strategy for Realtors. My customers look forward to receiving my eNewsletter."

Carolyn Hoty - Real Estate Broker, ReMax

Ron Grant – Chipman Relocations

"I was fortunate to meet Paul in 2005 at a seminar that he was giving on the value of newsletters as a useful marketing tool. I thought his presentation was delivered extremely well, so as a result I become a long term client of Paul Kalkman. Paul delivered a quality newsletter that consistently drove business to our company. I would highly recommend Paul and GOemail for any corporation that is looking to increase their presence in the market place,"
